

One of the first ambulance vehicles used in the early days by the Greece Volunteer Ambulance corps, this year marking its 50th anniversary. Today, the ambulance service has five emergency vehicles and two FLY cars, which are outfitted with life-support systems.